Web design work for a Project Management Company

About The Client

Pathtrails provide client-focused, dynamic and innovative solutions to keep us and their clients at the forefront of the industry.

Challenge:

> The client wants to build a website for their company.
> They came to us after hearing about us from an acquaintance.
> The client needs their website redesigned as soon as possible in order to meet a deadline for a significant project meeting.

Customer Website:

https://pathtrails.com

Industry:

Project Management Company

Optimization Used:

Wordpress, Elementor, Photoshop, Figma

The customer had an outdated website with low loading speed & low quality images.
Website categories & formats were wrong.
Old website was unfinished & not presentable for clients.

Solution:

> We have the ability to go above and beyond client expectations.
> We were able to meet their schedule and create an excellent website on time.
> A future digital branding initiative was also recommended by the customer.
